True and False

T or F There is evidence for Freud's view.

T or F There is evidence for Lewis' view.

T or F Lewis said that the idea of God was "wish fulfillment."

T or F Freud said that humans dreamed up an idea of God because they needed a father figure to whom to look for protection.

T or F Freud referred to the moral teachings of Christianity as "useless" and of "no value."

T or F If Freud was right that God does not exist and death is the end, then one could return the argument that it really wouldn't matter if humans believed in God or not. If there is no God, the only meaning in life is to live and die.
